Special Section on Latest Advances in Fundamental Theories of Signal Processing

The IEICE Transactions on Fundamentals of Electronics, Communications and Computer Sciences announces a forthcoming Special Section on Latest Advances in Fundamental Theories of Signal Processing to be published in March, 2009. Fundamental theories of signal processing provides mathematical basis for various areas of applications. The objective of this Special Section is to discuss, through papers, the latest advances in fundamental theories of signal processing. The topics of interests within the scope of this special section include,

Fundamental Theories of Signal Processing in the following research fields:

- Fundamental Theories of Signal Processing
- Adaptive Signal Processing
- Nonlinear Signal Processing
- Multirate Signal Processing
- Blind Signal Processing
- Array Signal Processing
- Multimedia Signal Processing
- Speech/Acoustic Signal Processing
- Image/Visual Signal Processing
- Audio/Video Compression
- Noise Suppression
- Color Image Processing
- Watermarking
- Signal Processing for Communications
- Biomedical Signal Processing

It is recommended that the length of a paper for this special section is within eight printed pages and that of a letter within two printed pages. Please refer to Information for Authors of the Transactions for a format and a style. Information for authors can be found at the IEICE web site: <http://www.ieice.org/eng/shiori/index.html>. Please send Copyright Transfer Form and Confirmation Sheet by postal mail to the following address:

Dr. Kiyoshi Nishikawa

* The manuscript may be returned to authors with no review if the editorial committee finds that its contents do not fall in the scope of this special section. In such a case, submission to a regular section or other journals is encouraged.

* Please note that if accepted, all authors, including authors of invited paper, are requested to pay for the page charges covering partial cost of publications. Authors will receive 50 copies of reprints.

* At least one of the authors must be an IEICE member when the manuscript is submitted for review. Invited papers are an exception. We recommend that authors unaffiliated with IEICE apply for membership. For membership applications, please visit the web page, <http://www.ieice.org/eng/member/OM-appli.html>
