

Correspondence to the 2020 General Conference Due to COVID-19

February 26th,2020

The Institute of Electronics, Information and Communication Engineers (IEICE)

Chair, Masataka Nakazawa

Chair of the Conference Committee, Hiroshi Imai

Very unfortunately, taking into account of new coronavirus infections (COVID-19), we have decided to cancel our 2020 IEICE General Conference (March 17-20) at Hiroshima University Higashi-Hiroshima Campus. All events accompanying the general conference will be canceled. Papers and fees will be handled as follows.

· Presentations and questions could not be given for the papers of this conference. However, since the proceedings (download version) containing the papers will be published on March 3rd and will be made publicly available, we will regard as the presentation at the conference has been completed. Therefore, as a result of the authors, the papers will be regarded as presented papers, and contained in the proceedings of 2020 general conference.

· Fees will not be refunded. Instead of it, we will approve completion of the presentation at the conference and distribute download rights of the presentation materials.

We highly appreciate your continued understanding and cooperation.

In addition, we will consider the online holding of some sessions, and will promptly inform you in case of holding.
